FINDSTUDIOSPACE · V5 FINAL SEND

Cold outreach to Portland landlords.

Locked send copy. $49/month explicit on Email 1. Reply playbook and pre-send checklist included. Plaintext only for the first 30–50 sends.

3 emails · Day 0 / 3 / 10 5 categories · event, photo, video, maker, art 170 words · across the full sequence

What changed from v4 to v5

Locked send copy. Pricing, no-platform-lock-in language, and full operations doc.

LOCKED

Email 1 line 2 simplified

"A Portland directory for creative rental spaces" — no long category list. Cleaner read, same scope.

LOCKED

$49/month explicit on Email 1

Sponsored line now reads "from $49/month, more visibility." Price-on-the-table without making it the headline.

LOCKED

"No platform lock-in"

Replaces "no contracts" / "no booking lock-in." Clearer about what they're not signing away.

LOCKED

Email 2 reply path

"Just reply with free, sponsored, or rented." Reads more human; words bolded so they're scannable.

ADDED

Reply handling + quality checklist

Operations doc covers what to send when they reply free / sponsored / rented / commission / price. Pre-send checklist enforces the rules.

RULE

Skip-send if source_mention is weak

Specific signal is what makes Email 1 feel real. No reference, no send.

Cadence

Day 0 / 3 / 10. Plaintext only. Revenue-testing CTA on first touch.

0-3-10 CADENCE — PLAINTEXT ONLY

Hey Marcus —

Saw your Craigslist post last week for the SE 8th building. I run FindStudioSpace, a Portland directory for creative rental spaces.

I'm building the Portland photo studio page so renters can compare spaces by use instead of digging through scattered listings.

Two paths:

1. Free basic listing — renters contact you directly. No commission, no platform lock-in.

2. Sponsored placement near the top of the photo studio page — from $49/month, more visibility.

Want me to send the free listing link, or the sponsored option too?

Marcus — quick follow-up.

The basic listing is free. Sponsored is optional if you want higher visibility on the Portland photo studio page.

Renters contact you directly either way. No commission, no platform lock-in.

Just reply with free, sponsored, or rented and I'll handle the next step.

Marcus —

Last note from me. If the SE 8th building is rented or this is not relevant, no problem — I'll take you off the list.

If timing changes later, the free listing path stays open: findstudiospace.com/list-your-space

Good luck with the space.

Send rules

Read before every batch. No exceptions on the source-mention rule.

1. Send Email 1 on Day 0.
2. Send Email 2 as a threaded reply on Day 3.
3. Send Email 3 as a final note on Day 10.
4. Plaintext only. No tracking pixels. No HTML branding in the first batch.
5. Send in batches of 10–20.
6. Personalize the first sentence every time.
7. Do not send if the source mention is weak or missing.
8. Do not send if the category match is unclear.

Reply playbook

When they reply, this is what to send back.

REPLY TRIGGER	RESPONSE
`free`	Send the free listing link.
`sponsored`	Send the sponsored placement link or explain the $49/month option.
`rented`	Thank them. Mark the listing rented or inactive.
`what is sponsored?`	"Sponsored placement puts your listing near the top of the relevant FindStudioSpace category page. It is a paid advertising placement, not a booking fee or commission. Renters still contact you directly."
`do you take commission?`	"No. FindStudioSpace does not take commission, process bookings, collect deposits, or control the renter relationship. Renters contact you directly."
`what's the price?`	"The first sponsored option starts at $49/month for one category page."
`wrong contact`	Ask who manages the listing. Offer to remove them from the list.
